Policy Statement

Our school's 'curriculum' is all the planned activities that we organise in order to promote learning, personal growth and development. It includes not only the formal requirements of the Early Years Foundation Stage Curriculum and the National Curriculum 2014, but also the various extra-curricular activities that the school organises in order to enrich the children's experience. It also includes the 'hidden curriculum' – what the children learn from the way they are treated and expected to behave. We want children to grow into positive, responsible people, who can work and cooperate with others while at the same time developing their knowledge and skills, in order to achieve their true potential.

Our curriculum is broad and balanced, providing a wide range of knowledge, skills and experiences, giving each skill based theme sufficient time to contribute to the children's learning. The planning process is central to the effective delivery of the curriculum. Planning takes into account the key skills required in each subject by the National Curriculum as well as children's interests. The main emphasis of planning in the school is to make the curriculum relevant to the child's learning by making explicit cross curricular links.

The needs of individual children are met by grouping them as part of a differentiated approach. Learning opportunities at home, when appropriate, will reinforce or extend class teaching.

Through the delivery of the policy the children will have opportunities to:

1. Apply and transfer skills and knowledge across all areas of learning.
2. Acquire and develop knowledge, understanding and skills as set out in the programmes of study.
3. Develop proficiency, confidence and an appreciation of the use of Information Technology (IT) to enhance their learning.
4. Learn collaboratively and independently and in so doing reflect on their own and others' outcomes to develop and understand their next steps.
5. Learn from visitors to the school and visit learning environments appropriate to specific activities.

Guidance and Procedures

All staff and associated stakeholders should familiarise themselves with the accompanying document entitled "Curriculum Policy Guidance and Procedures".

Long Lane school Vision

At the end of their time at Long Lane Primary School, all our children will take with them a love of learning by having:

- a high standard of core academic knowledge and skills
- the ability and desire to build on their knowledge and skills
- a strong set of practical, social and emotional life skills
- a sense of personal achievement
- a sense of personal pride in themselves, their school and their community.

The teaching of the curriculum will:

- develop successful learners who are confident, inquisitive and independent
- create a culture of learning and discovery that is stimulating and enjoyable for both children and staff
- ensure our staff work together expertly and enthusiastically to deliver our curriculum in a safe, caring and positive environment.

Organisation and planning

We plan our curriculum in three phases, Phase 1 (Foundation Stage), Phase 2 (Y1 & Y2), & Phase 3 (Y5 & Y6). Each year group plans a curriculum matrix for the academic year. Staff collaborate in order to share topic ideas and make links between areas of the curriculum and whole school events, e.g. focus weeks.

Through our long-term plans, we give clear guidance on the objectives and teaching strategies for each topic. Our long-term planning is directly linked to National Curriculum 2014 expectations from the guidance documents and Chris Quigley's Skills based Curriculum.

Our medium-term plans are those that our teachers write on a termly basis. We use these to set out the learning objectives and success criteria for each session, and to identify what resources and activities we are going to use in the lesson.

Throughout the school, we adopt an inter-disciplinary approach to curriculum planning which aims to link the topics of various subjects. We plan the curriculum carefully, so that there is coherent and full coverage of all aspects of the Early Years Foundation Stage Curriculum and the National Curriculum, and there is planned progression in all curriculum areas. However, there are instances where subjects are taught more discretely.

The curriculum and inclusion (please also refer to our SEND policy)

The curriculum in our school is designed to be accessed by all children who attend the school. If we think it necessary to modify some children's access to the curriculum, in order to meet their needs, then we do this in consultation with parents.

Where children have special needs, our school does all it can to meet the individual needs, and we comply with the requirements set out in the SEND Code of Practice. If a child displays signs of having a particular learning or physical need, then his/her teacher makes an assessment of this need. In most instances, the teacher is able to provide the resources and educational opportunities that meet the child's needs, within normal class organisation. If a child's need is more severe, we may involve the appropriate external agencies to support and in making recommendations and assessments. We always provide additional resources and support for children with special needs.

The school provides a Provision Plan or a Support and Achieve Plan (SAP) for each of the children who are recognised as requiring more specific support or intervention. This sets out the nature of the special need and outlines how the school will aim to address it. The SAP also sets out targets for improvement, so that we can review and monitor the progress of each child at regular intervals.

Some children in our school have disabilities. We are committed to meeting the needs of these children, as we are to meeting the needs of all groups of children within our school. All reasonable steps are taken to ensure that these children are not placed at a substantial disadvantage compared with non-disabled children. Teaching and learning are appropriately modified for children with disabilities. For example, they may be given additional time to complete certain activities, or the teaching materials may be adapted.

Early Years Foundation Stage

The curriculum that we teach in Reception meets the requirements set out in the Early Years Foundation Stage Curriculum and builds on the experiences of the children in nursery. Our curriculum planning focuses on the Prime areas of Learning and Specific areas of Learning.

Our school fully supports the principle that young children learn through play, and by engaging in well planned and structured activities they will develop the Characteristics of Learning.

Our practitioners will assess the skills development of each child constantly, and record this in their 'Learning Journey' books. This assessment forms an important part of the future curriculum planning for each child and is used towards the final assessment against the Early Learning Goals.

We are well aware that all children need the support of both the parents and the teachers to make good progress in school. We strive to build positive links with the parents of each child, by keeping them informed about how the children are being taught, and how well each child is progressing.

Monitoring and review

Our Governing Board's Operations Committee is responsible for monitoring the way in which the school curriculum is implemented.

Teachers are responsible for the day-to-day organisation of teaching and learning. The Headteacher organises the monitoring of teaching and learning as well as curriculum development and receives feedback from subject coordinators.

Arrangements for Monitoring and Evaluation

This policy will be reviewed regularly in-line with our annual Monitoring and Evaluation (M & E) cycle and will be updated in response to new guidance and/or legislation as necessary.

The Senior Leadership Team, with the subject coordinators, will monitor the delivery of the curriculum and will review the curriculum provision in-line with the annual curriculum review cycle.

The Headteacher reports termly to the governing board to enable them to monitor and evaluate the impact of the school's policies, practices and procedures.
