Data Protection and Freedom of Information Policy

Date	Description
24 th September 2015	Full Governing Board

Review Schedule	Two Year
Next Review	September 2017

Aims & Objectives:

The aim of this policy is to provide a model set of guidelines to enable staff, parents and pupils to understand:

- The law regarding personal data
- How personal data should be processed, stored, archived and deleted/destroyed
- How staff, parents and pupils can access personal data

In addition, there is brief guidance at the end of the policy on Freedom of Information which covers other information held by schools.

The objective of the policy is to ensure that the school acts within the requirements of the Data Protection Act 1998 when retaining and storing personal data, and when making it available to individuals, and that the process of responding to enquiries for other information is also legal under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (in force from 1st January 2005).

(This policy can be adapted to suit schools within West Berkshire.)

Data Protection – the law:

Under the Data Protection Act 1998, and associated legislation, access to their own personal information is a statutory right for pupils (if they are of an age to understand the information they request) and parents (as defined in the Education Act 1996 – see footnote) may also request access to their child's personal data.

School staff have a right of access to personal data on themselves.

Anyone has the right to question and correct inaccurate information, but in general this must be matters of fact, not opinions.

Personal data must be kept securely and protected by passwords if it is electronic, and access to it must only be by those authorised to see it – confidentiality must be respected. The law also provides that personal data should not be kept longer than is required.

Third party data (information about someone other than the requesting individual) is in general only provided with their permission.

Complaints about the handling of personal data within the school should be made to the member of staff named below.

The named person with overall responsibility for personal data within this school is:
Peter Thorne – Head Teacher

Fair processing of personal data: data which may be shared

Schools, local education authorities, Adviza and the Department for Education (DfE) all hold information on pupils in order to run the education system, and in doing so have to follow the Data Protection Act 1998. This means, among other things, that the data held about pupils must only be used for specific purposes allowed by law. The school has a Fair Processing or Privacy Notice which explains how personal data is used and with whom it will be shared. This Notice is published on the School Website.

The Local Authority uses information about pupils to carry out specific functions for which it is responsible, such as the assessment of any special educational needs the pupil may have. It also uses the information to derive statistics to inform decisions on (for example) the funding of schools, and to assess the performance of schools and set targets for them. The statistics are used in such a way that individual pupils cannot be identified from them.

Information on how to access personal data held by other organisations is given below.

Pupils, as data subjects, have certain rights under the Data Protection Act, including a general right of access to personal data held on them, with parents exercising this right on their behalf if they are too young to do so themselves. If parents want to request to access the personal data held about their child, they should contact the relevant organisation in writing:

- the school as above;
- the LA's Data Protection Officer at Information Management Officer, Strategic Support, Council Offices, Market Street, Newbury RG14 5LD email sellis@westberks.gov.uk

Access to other school information – The Freedom of Information Act

Requests for information

- The Freedom of Information Act came into force on 1st January 2005. Under this Act, all schools which receive a written or emailed request for information which they hold or publish, are required to respond within 20 working days.
- The schools Publication Scheme is available on the school website.
- The school will provide information on where to access the information required e.g. the website link, or details of a charge if the publication/ information is charged, or send any free information. If the item is charged the school does not need to provide it until the payment is received.
- A refusal of any information requested will state the relevant exemption which has been applied or that the school does not hold the information, and will explain what public interest test has been made if this applies.
- If the information is published by another organisation (for example, Ofsted reports, DfE leaflets) the school will direct the enquirer to the organisation which supplied the information or publication unless it is legal and possible to provide the information direct (for example, a copy of the summary of an Ofsted report, spare copies of a DfE leaflet).
- In most cases it will not be legal to photocopy a publication in its entirety and supply this to an enquirer unless the school owns the copyright – this is particularly important where the original publication was a charged item. The enquirer will be required to obtain the publication from the publishing organisation or through a commercial source.
- The school will keep the original request and note against this who dealt with the request and when the information was provided.
- Any complaint about the provision of information will be handled by the Head Teacher or another senior member of staff. All complaints should be in writing and documented. The Publication Scheme will include information on who to contact for both enquiries and complaints.

- All enquirers should be advised that they may complain to the information Commissioner if they are unhappy with the way their request has been handled.

Reviewing:

This Policy will be reviewed, and updated if necessary every two years. The Freedom of Information publication scheme should be reviewed regularly, with staff checking if they add a new piece of recorded information to the school's portfolio that this is covered within the scheme.

Footnote: s576 of the Education Act 1996 defines a parent and includes all natural parents, someone who is not a parent of a pupil but who has parental responsibility for him, and a person who has care of the pupil

Data Protection:

Processing, storing, archiving and deleting personal data: guidance

A record retention schedule is available from the Information and Records Management Society (details given below)

- Personal data and school records about pupils are confidential to the child. The information can be shared appropriately within the professional working of the school to enable the school to make the best educational provision for the child. The law permits such information to be shared with other educational establishments when pupils change schools.
- School records for a child should be kept for 7 years after the child leaves the school, or until the child reaches 25 years of age (whichever is greater) and examination records the same.
- Data on staff is sensitive information and confidential to the individual, and is shared, where appropriate, at the discretion of the Head Teacher and with the knowledge, and if possible the agreement of the staff member concerned.
- Employment records form part of a staff member's permanent record. Because there are specific legislative issues connected with these (salary and pension details etc.) these records should be retained as set out by the LA or in the retention schedule of the school.
- Interview records, CV's and application forms for unsuccessful applicants are kept for 6 months.
- All formal complaints made to the Head Teacher or School Governors, in accordance with the school's Complaints Procedure, will be kept for at least seven years in confidential files, with any documents on the outcome of such complaints. Individuals concerned in such complaints may have access to such files subject to data protection and to legal professional privilege in the event of a court case.
- There may be other circumstances in which information can or has to be disclosed for example in court proceedings. If you are in any doubt, please contact the LA's Information Management Officer.

Accessing personal data: guidance

- A child can request access to his/her own data. The request is not charged and does not have to be in writing. The staff will judge whether the request is in the child's best interests, and that the child will understand the information provided. They may also wish to consider whether the request has been made under coercion.
- A parent can request access to or a copy of their child's school records and other information held about their child. The request must be made in writing. There is no charge for such requests on behalf of the child, but there may be a charge for photocopying records – this is detailed in guidance available from the Information Commissioner. Staff should check, if a request for information is made by a parent, that no other legal obstruction (for example, a court order limiting an individual's exercise of parental responsibility) is in force.
- Parents should note that rights under the Data Protection Act to do with information about their child rest with the child as soon as they are old enough to understand these rights. This will vary from one child to another, but, as a broad guide, it is reckoned that most children will have a sufficient understanding by the age of 12. Parents are encouraged to discuss and explain any request for information with their child where they have sufficient understanding and/or if they are aged 12 or over

- Separately from the Data Protection Act, The Education (Pupil Information)(England) Regulations 2005 (as amended) provide a pupil's parent (regardless of the age of the pupil) with the right to view, or to have a copy of, their child's educational record at the school. Parents who wish to exercise this right must apply to the school in writing.
- For educational records (unlike other personal data; see below) access must be provided within 15 school days, and if copies are requested, these must be supplied within 15 school days of payment.
- A member of West Berkshire Council staff can request access to their own records at no charge, but the request must be made in writing. The member of staff has the right to see their own records, and to ask for copies of the records. There is no charge for copies of records.
- The law requires that all requests for personal information are dealt with within 40 days of receipt except requests for educational records (see above). All requests will be acknowledged in writing on receipt, and access to records will be arranged as soon as possible. If awaiting third party consents, the school will arrange access to those documents already available, and notify the individual that other documents may be made available later.
- In all cases, should third party information (information about another individual) be included in the information the staff will try to obtain permission to show this information to the applicant, with the exception of information provided by another member of school staff (or local authority staff) which is exempt from a requirement for third party consents. If third party permission is not obtained the person with overall responsibility should consider whether the information can still be released.
- Personal data should always be of direct relevance to the person requesting the information. A document discussing more general concerns may not be defined as personal data.
- From 1st January 2005, when the Freedom of Information Act came into force, a request for personal information can include unstructured as well as structured records – for example, letters, emails etc. not kept within an individual's personal files, or filed by their name, but still directly relevant to them. If these would form part of a wider record it is advisable to file these within structured records as a matter of course and to avoid excessive administrative work. These can be requested if sufficient information is provided to identify them.
- Anyone who requests to see their personal data has the right to question the accuracy of matters of fact within the data, and to ask to have inaccurate information deleted or changed. They may also question opinions, and their comments will be recorded, but opinions do not need to be deleted or changed as a part of this process.
- The school will document all requests for personal information with details of who dealt with the request, what information was provided and when, and any outcomes (letter requesting changes etc.) This will enable staff to deal with a complaint if one is made in relation to the request.

- There are exemptions to providing personal information, for example where the school consider doing so would cause serious harm to someone. If you are in any doubt, please contact the LA's Information Management Officer.

Freedom of Information

Access to other school information – guidance on Freedom of Information

Publication Schemes

- Under the Freedom of Information Act 2000, all schools (primary, secondary and nursery) should have a 'publication scheme' – essentially a formal list of the types of non-personal information which the school produces or holds, and which is readily accessible to staff, pupils and parents or other enquirers.
- The publication scheme should be available as a hard copy and also posted on the website (if the school has one). The model scheme supplied by the Information Commissioner's Office should have been adopted from August 2013.
- Schools can link this document via their website to a list of publications with details of contacts and costs, and any appropriate downloads.
- There should be a named person with overall responsibility for published information within each school. In most cases this would be the Head Teacher. Their details should be available on the website with the Publication Scheme.

Requests for information

- Requests should be acknowledged within three school days and answered in 20 working days or 20 school days (this applies where requests come in shortly before school holidays).
- Any refusal of information must include details of the exemption used and a public interest test if this applies. Speak to the LA's Information Management Officer email sellis@westberks.gov.uk for guidance on this.
- All requesters should be advised they can request a review of the handling of their request if they are dissatisfied with the response – this should be carried out by another staff member or a Governor. The LA's Information Management Officer can provide guidance on the statutory FoI review process if required.
- After a review, requesters may contact the Information Commissioner if they remain dissatisfied and should be directed to his office. Again, ask for advice on this process from the LA's Information Management Officer.

Useful Guidance:

Information Commissioner

The Information Commissioner is the Regulator for Data Protection and Freedom of Information and provides tailored guidance for schools on his website.

Legislation:

Data Protection Act 1998: All personal data which is held must be processed and retained in accordance with the eight principles of the Act and with the rights of the individual. Personal data must not be kept longer than is necessary (this may be affected by the requirements of other Acts in relation to financial data or personal data disclosed to Government departments). Retention of personal data must take account of the Act, and personal data must be disposed of as confidential waste. Covers both personal data relating to employees and to members of the public.

Education (Pupil Information) (England) Regulations 2005 (as amended): Retention of Pupil records, and rights to access these.

Freedom of Information Act 2000: The Freedom of Information Act covers the rights of requesters to request and receive information held in a recordable format by the public authority (for schools this is the school, not the Governing Board). There are a number of exemptions under which a refusal can be made, but all public authorities must offer requesters the opportunity to have a review of any refusal, and must direct them to the Information Commissioner if they remain dissatisfied.
